Janet Boynes, Author of Called Out, Featured on the Cover of Charisma Magazine

Creation House author calls the church to truth, compassion and prayer.

Lake Mary, FL - Charisma magazine tackles the tough subject of homosexuality and the church in order to shed a huge spotlight of truth on the enemy's lies. For their lead story, they couldn't have chosen a better model than Creation House author—and former lesbian—Janet Boynes.

In the July issue (on sale June 22nd), Janet exposes the deception to which so many have fallen prey, when they come to believe that same-sex attraction is a natural part of who they are. With courage, candor, and compassion, she shares her powerful story of a life transformed by God's grace and delivered to a freedom framed and powered by God's purpose.

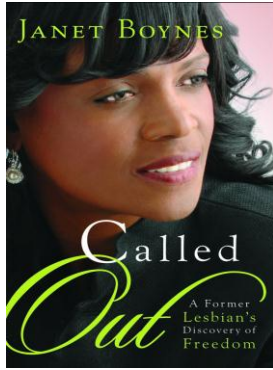

Janet's message is one of hope, spoken with the wisdom and passion of someone who's been there. Many people will read her heartbreaking story of childhood abuse and abandonment and be able to relate to the brokenness that led her on a quest for acceptance and love. This is a familiar scenario for many individuals trapped in the homosexual lifestyle.

For years, Janet lived her life knowing she was on a destructive path, but she had no idea how to change. Her heart cried out for freedom, and the Lord heard her. Through a surprise encounter with a Christian woman she'd never met, God set the stage that ultimately would lead to her deliverance.

Janet has since gone on to found Janet Boynes Ministries (www.janetboynesministries.com), a non-denominational Christian outreach that ministers to hurting people who desire to leave the homosexual lifestyle. In Called Out: A Former Lesbian's Discovery of Freedom, Janet shares her powerful, personal story of the redemptive, reconciling power of God's love, offering insight for those who struggle with—or whose loved ones struggle with—same-sex attraction.
